How did the Fund Perform?

The Kingsbarn Tactical Bond ETF (“the Fund”) returned 2.07% for the period of December 1, 2024, to November 30, 2025, versus the Bloomberg Aggregate Bond Index which returned 5.70% for the same period. The Fund primarily invests in a diversified portfolio of high-grade fixed-income securities coupled with tactical duration positions which are adjusted monthly and implemented using exchange-traded Treasury futures.

What Factors Influenced Performance?

The Fund underperformed the index due to negative alpha driven by the Fund’s tactical duration positioning. Over this prior twelve-month period the Fund has generally maintained lower interest rate sensitivity than its respective index due to expectations of weaker economic growth and higher inflation expectations. This decreased portfolio duration exposure led to the Fund’s underperformance as yields declined over the reporting period.

Annual operating expenses and fee waivers

Effective October 1, 2025, the Fund's advisory fee structure changed. Prior to October 1, 2025, the Advisor was entitled to an annual management fee of 1.25% of the Fund's average daily net assets. During that period, the Advisor had contractually agreed to waive a portion of its advisory fee to an effective annual rate of 0.95% and such waived fees were not subject to recoupment. Effective October 1, 2025, the advisory fee rate was permanently reduced to 0.50% of the Fund's average daily net assets, and, as a result, the prior advisory fee waiver agreement was terminated as of that date.
